

The Goodness of God

Have you ever been in severe pain, day after day, unable to sleep two consecutive hours during the night, and then found yourself in the presence of total relief? You have experienced the goodness of God? Has your mind been consumed with depressed thoughts which drove you to panic and anxiety, and a friend was instrumental in restoring soundness of thought and emotions of joy? You have experienced the goodness of God. How often has sin overtaken you, and you have sought forgiveness of God, and received it? You have come face to face with the goodness of God. Don't forget those occasions when you deliberately sinned, and lived to tell about God's mercy in forgiving you. When you have time during the day, and your bible is near, turn to the 107th Psalm and read it carefully. How many times God has been good to us we cannot count! Were it not for his goodness, the earth would be empty of all unrighteous people. Read 2 Peter 3:9, and see the longsuffering nature of the Lord. Let us all be sober-minded about spiritual things, keeping always in front of our thinking, the goodness of God.
